Canadian fiddle and step dance powerhouse April Verch with her band stood out as one of the highlights of the four day festival. Photo Olivia Abbott

April Verch wasn't to be outdone in the dancing stakes – her fiddling was effusive and she couldn't seem to stop herself jigging about as she played. Then she really went for it: I can honestly say I've never seen anybody step-dancing while playing the fiddle (expertly) and spinning round and round in circles at the same time before.
